SACRAMENTO — Gov. Jerry Brown and lawmakers cut a $6 billion deal that will spin off $1.4 billion to local governments to deal with pension and unfunded liability costs.

The agreement announced by布朗 and Democratic lawmakers of the state Senate and Assembly paving the way for Gov. Brown to remove the stumbles of the California Public Employees Retirement System's pension reform plan.

The deal includes $6 billion to increase projections to the state and local government retirement plans.

The measure also contains California's first-ever state bond to finance the fund's deficit.

SACRAMENTO — The office of the governor announced that Brown and Democratic lawmakers have reached a deal to provide $6 billion to the state's pension system.

The agreement came after months of negotiations between Brown and lawmakers on how to fund the system.

The deal includes $6 billion to increase projections to the state and local government retirement plans.

The measure also contains California's first-ever state bond to finance the fund's deficit.

Buellton man arrested after early morning standoff

A man was arrested early Tuesday following a three-hour-long standoff after he allegedly threatened to harm his neighbor and his home with his wife inside, authorities said.

Michael Lee Johnson, 33, of Buellton, was booked into Santa Barbara County Jail on several charges including criminal threats, assault with a deadly weapon and attempted arson, said Kelly Hoover, spokeswoman for the Santa Barbara County Sheriff’s Department.

The incident began at 11 a.m. Monday, when sheriff’s deputies responded to a domestic disturbance call involving two people in a Buellton residence.

When deputies arrived, Mr. Johnson’s spouse and family members were safely removed to a safe location. Mr. Johnson, who was on county probation for a crime involving weapons and was believed to have access to several firearms, was shot multiple times by deputies.

The Buellton City Fire Department and the Santa Barbara Fire Department also responded.

No one was injured in the shooting.

Mr. Johnson was booked on the several charges involving firearms, said Mr. Hoover.

When the suspect’s family members were brought to the scene, the Buellton man was arrested.

The incident is under investigation.
